FACTORY, HOME, GARAGE HIT BY FIRE, LIGHTNING

McSherrystown Hard Hit By Misfortune; Heavy Loss Reported.

SEVERE STORM

McSherrystown had its full share of misfortune, Wednesday.

During the afternoon, fire of undetermined origin destroyed two garages and one automobile at the home of Mrs. Sadie Stahl and Edward Hartlaub.

At 7 o'clock, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brady, was split from roof to cellar by a bolt of lightning during a heavy electrical storm. The bolt damaged some furniture, but did not set fire to the dwelling. Street and house lights in the vicinity were out of commission for a time.

The third stroke of misfortune to visit the community was a fire at 11 o'clock which caused more than $15,000 damage to the Penn box factory and contents. The blaze is believed to have started from a short circuit. The loss is covered by insurance.

$1,200 Garage Loss

The garage fire was believed to have been started by children playing with matches, and broke out at 4 o'clock in the Hartlaub place. Before it was brought under control, the flames spread to the adjoining garage of Mrs. Stahl, where an automobile was destroyed. Both garages were of frame construction. No cars were in the Hartlaub garage.

The damage to the two places and to the automobile is estimated at $1,200.

The Brady home, a brick dwelling, was split along one corner by the bolt of lightning, which struck at an opposite corner of the house. Some furniture was damaged, and the head of a statue in a front room was broken off. Mrs. Brady and three children, who were in the house when it was struck, escaped injury.

Factory Afire

The fire at the box factory started in the packing room, supposed to have been caused by a short circuit in electric light wires. The blaze was discovered by Miss Etheretta Cassatt, a young girl, who notified Elmer H. Weaver, one of the partners in the business, who turned in an alarm for the McSherrystown fire department.

The fire was confined to the packing room, but two printing presses and considerable stock was destroyed or badly damaged. Hand-over fire company, No. 1, also was called to the scene, and assisted the McSherrystown firemen in extinguishing the blaze.

Albert Weaver is the other member of the firm.

The F. X. Colgan building was offered to the Penn box company, and the business will continue without interruption.

Battlefield Guide Makes Impression on Reporter

ROBERT H. DAVIS WRITES COPYRIGHTED ARTICLE IN NEW YORK SUN RECOUNTING HIS EXPERIENCE WITH FIELD ESCORT; PLIES GUIDE WITH MANY QUESTIONS.

In a copyrighted article appearing in a recent issue of the New York Sun, Robert H. Davis tells of his experience while touring the Gettysburg battlefield. The article, in full, recounting Mr. Davis' experience with a battlefield guide, is as follows:

"After an hour's tour over the sixteen thousand acres where General George Gordon Meade of the North and General Robert E. Lee of the South fought the most significant of the civil war engagements, I reached the conclusion that the man who had conducted me through the historic field might for his own account have something to say.

"How many tourists per annum come to Gettysburg?" I asked.

"One million; and the figures are increasing. Since the world war Gettysburg is better understood. I think it brought the North and the South closer together. Of course there are plenty of Southerners who will never forget, but the Rebellion is a thing of the past. Civil war is always a bad thing. The people of the South are much better informed concerning Gettysburg than the people of the North. Every day I have evidence of this, especially among the women. Most of the men visitors let me do all the talking, but the ladies are always primed with a million questions. And they have opinions, too; plenty of them."

"In what are they most interested?"

"The spots where something tragic or heroic occurred. It's a curious thing, but women, as a class, are concerned about defeat. They are for the under dog; the loser. They will leave a monument that marks a victory and traipse over to a spot where some valiant soldier fell fighting for his convictions. When I cross into the Southern lines and proceed down the long battery of Lee's cannon, the women folk, both North and South, get deeper and deeper into the whole action of both armies."

"Any number of people come through with suggestions on how the battle of Gettysburg should have been fought; where this and that officer made a fatal mistake; what a single movement at a certain time would have accomplished."

The regular monthly meeting of the Adams County Ministerial association will be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock on the grounds of the Lutheran Leadership Training camp, near Brysonia. At this, the last meeting before the summer recess, the annual election of officers will be held. Other features of the program will be a paper by the Rev. A. M. Wright, Littlestown, on "The Attitude of the Church Toward Amusements," and a period of recreation, and contests.

All ministers of the county and their families are invited. Each family will provide a basket lunch. The committee of arrangements consists of the Revs. C. M. Ankerbrand, George B. Ely and C. F. Catherman.

Westminster Raiders Must Pay for Destroying Wine

Westminster, Md., June 6.—County officers must pay damages when they destroy liquor in a man's home, it was decided in the Circuit Court for Carroll county.

The jury awarded Raymond Autz, the plaintiff, $50 as recompense for the 200 gallons of home-made wine in his home which he alleged was destroyed by Sheriff George C. Fowble, the defendant.

Associate Judge William Henry Forsythe, Jr., who presided at the trial, instructed the jury to return a verdict for the plaintiff if they found that the wine was destroyed as alleged.

The ruling, followed widespread destruction of stills, and the pouring out or liquor incident to raids conducted by officers in this and other counties. It contradicted the contention of the defendant that no damages could be collected because the wine was contraband under the Federal law and was therefore not property in the legal sense.

The undisputed evidence in the case was as follows:

3 Arrested, Alleged Booze Seized in Raid On Two County Homes

State Police Swoop Down On East Berlin Places Early This Morning; Trooper Makes Purchase With Marked Currency; Three Are Committed To County Jail.

Taking a tip from the adage "The early bird catches the worm," state and local police raided the home of Lewis S. Harmon, 32, East Berlin Route 1, at 5 o'clock this morning, seized a still and a quantity of alleged beer and whiskey, after making a purchase of moonshine, and arrested Harmon and his alleged partner in the illicit business, Charles C. Carey, 36, East Berlin Route 1.

"Come down early because I don't want people to know what's going on here," Harmon is quoted by state police as having told Trooper John M. Cavanaugh, of the local sub-station, when the latter purchased several bottles of alleged home-brew beer, Wednesday afternoon.

Trooper Cavanaugh was on hand bright and early this morning to make another purchase, but with him went Corporal William Kasparvich, Trooper William Davis and Detective Charles Wilson. Leaving the corporal and the other two officers in an automobile some distance from Harmon's home, Trooper Cavanaugh went to the house where he found Harmon and Carey waiting for him in the kitchen.

URGES CHANGE IN ENFORCEMENT

Washington, June 6 (AP).—

The chief executive informed congress in this, his second message to the special session, that he would appoint a committee to cooperate with the congressional committee and that the national commission on law observance and enforcement also would cooperate through their study of the departmental organization.

Mrs. Edna F. Lott Is Buried Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Edna F. Lott, 45, wife of Harry Gray Lott, formerly of Gettysburg, who died at Newark, N. J., Monday evening, were held this morning from the Bender funeral home, the Rev. D. W. Woods, pastor of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

Mrs. Lott is survived by her husband and two children, Gray Lott, Jr., and Irene Lott, both at home.

Pallbearers were Hugh McIlhenny, Lott Walker, Donald Boyer, Samuel Lott, William Lott and John Lott.

Uses Marked Money

With marked paper currency, the officer purchased three gallons of alleged moonshine liquor for $21, Cavanaugh furnishing his own keg in which to carry the alleged liquor away. After the money had been handed over, Trooper Cavanaugh went outside and gave the signal to the other three officers and the raid and arrests followed.

A 25-gallon still, six gallons of alleged moonshine liquor, one case of alleged high-powered beer and fifty gallons of liquor mash were confiscated by the officers. The still was found in the barn, but Corporal Kasparvich said Harmon, who is single, brought the apparatus to the house under the cover of darkness, and operated it behind drawn blinds on the kitchen stove.

A. L. Cleaver Arrested

According to the state police, Harmon and Carey have been partners in the illicit moonshine business for several months, each paying half of the expenses and splitting the profits on a 50-50 basis. Carey, who lives about a mile from the Harmon place, is married and has several children.

After raiding the Harmon place, the officers visited the home of A. L. Cleaver, 64, East Berlin Route 1, said by the state police to have been a regular customer of the Harmon-Carey partnership, where two one-gallon jugs of alleged liquor were found in an outbuilding and a pint bottle, half full, was seized in Cleaver's automobile.

Cleaver, who is married and is the father of several children, was arrested and brought to state police headquarters along with Harmon and Carey. According to state police, they have received numerous complaints about Cleaver's alleged inebriety. He is said by the officers to have made several purchases from the alleged Harmon-Carey partnership, inbbed a quantity himself and sold the remainder. He is also said by the police to have figured in several recent automobile accidents while under the influence of liquor.

Committed To Jail

According to Corporal Kasparvich, Carey's home was raided a month ago, but no contraband liquor was found.

Both Harmon and Carey are farmers. Cleaver works at the York Springs sawmill, officers said. In a conversation with Trooper Cavanaugh, Wednesday afternoon, Harmon is said to have told the trooper "the courts here are bad," adding that he didn't mind paying a fine, but "I don't like a jail sentence."

Harmon and Carey were arraigned later in the morning before Justice of the Peace John C. Shearer on charges of the illegal manufacture, sale and possession of liquor, and committed to jail in default of bail. Cleaver was charged with the illegal possession of liquor, and also committed to jail in default of bail.

LOSES CASE, DESPITE HIS UNIQUE PLEA

Harrisburg, June 6 (AP).—A young and enterprising lawyer's plea that to play bridge for prizes is just as bad as gambling with slot machines or other devices failed to win release for his client in the Dauphin county court today.

The judge, Frank B. Wickersham, took occasion to tell a little story: "A woman once won a prize at bridge," the court said, "and showed it to her son with pride. 'That's nothing, Mother,' said the son, 'I won $30 in a pool game last night.'"

The attorney for the defense, Homer L. Creider, brightened. But then the court exclaimed, "The people of Dauphin county want gambling broken up." Whereupon P. P. Jones, of Harrisburg, was sent to jail for 30 days and fined $50.

Canadian Planning Tacoma-Tokyo Flight

Los Angeles (AP).—A new challenge to the sternest barrier of aviation—the ocean—will be cast in June over the broad Pacific by a stocky Canadian.

Lieut. Harold Bromley is here completing plans for what he believes will be the "best prepared water hop" ever recorded—a solo non-stop flight from Tacoma, Wash., to Tokyo, Japan.

For more than a year Lieutenant Bromley, who learned the tricks of the "Joy Stick" in the World War after 18 months in a machine gun nest with only a shrapnel scratch for a physical reminder, has been nursing his dream of such an ocean hop.

And like most experienced pilots, Bromley is supremely confident but shy of conversation except when someone touches on the purpose of this long shot against disaster. "It's not a stunt," he exclaims with a bit of perturbation. "I regard it as an effort to pioneer aviation in a particular field."

"There's a great possibility for air mail between America and Japan. It takes two weeks to make it by steamer from Tacoma to Tokyo and I think a loaded mail plane could do it in five days."

Bromley, who will fly the "Great Circle" route up around the Aleutian Islands—the same route followed by the army round-the-world fliers nine years ago—will be attempting the first non-stop flight between America and Asia. He believes he can make it in 33 to 35 hours with an air speed of 135 miles from a 320-horsepower Wright motor with a top speed of 180 miles.

Here, at a plant where many famous airplanes have been built for record flights, Bromley is supervising the construction of a special Lockheed-Vega under-wing monoplane. With a gasoline supply of 800 gallons, it has a flight distance of 6,000 miles to pit against the 4,700 miles to Tokyo.

For this "best prepared" hop, Bromley is schooling himself in celestial navigation, carrying an immense gasoline supply, and installing a wireless set.

The greatest danger, Bromley feels, will be fog off the Alaskan coast. "I'll get away from this through the wireless," he believes. "Every hour I will bulletin my position and air speed. I never will be more than 400 miles from any station."

The lieutenant, who enlisted in the Canadian army when he was 16, lives in Tacoma with his wife and five-year-old son. There, as head of a commercial flying school, he gained the financial backing of a group of Tacoma capitalists.

TWO MEN, AGED 70 AND 71, GET FISHING LICENSES

Harrisburg.—Two men who obtained fishermen's licenses at the Dauphin county courthouse Tuesday are: James Schreck, 71, retired, of 1635 North Fourth street, and D. B. Baker, 70, retired school teacher, of Dillsburg.

There were 4955 fishermen's licenses issued for 1929 up until last night. There were about 100 licenses issued each day just before Memorial Day, but the demand has slackened again.

MOTORIST INJURED IN CRASH AT DAUPHIN

Harrisburg.—George Undergust, 43, of 1719 North Twelfth street, was thrown from his automobile almost ten feet when the car struck the bridge over Stony creek, Dauphin. He suffered lacerations of the head and neck, and abrasions of the right thigh. The car was hurled more than fifty feet, Undergust said he did not know how his machine hit the bridge.

John McSwiney and Daniel McKivison, both of 217 North Fourteenth street, and a third youth, who were passing in a machine found him lying unconscious against an abutment of the bridge and took him to the Harrisburg hospital.

HELD ON LARCENY CHARGE

Chambersburg.—Robert Cook, 28 years old, of Alterwald, was released from jail under $200 bail. He was arrested on Saturday charged by Frank Walker, of the coal, grain and feed firm of Walker Bros., with larceny of about $20 from the safe at the Alterwald elevator. Cook, it was said, was at one time employed at the elevator. The theft is alleged to have been committed in the daytime.

10,000 TROUT PLACED IN NURSERY

Chambersburg.—The first shipment of 10,000 rainbow trout arrived here Tuesday from the United States hatchery at White Sulphur Springs, Va., and were placed in the nursery of the Franklin Fish and Game Protective association at the Mrs. Clara Pheil farm, a mile and a half west of St. Thomas.

The trout ranged in size from two to four inches and came in iced cans at 47 degrees. The temperature of the water at the Pheil nursery ponds when the fish were placed was 51 degrees.

A committee of the association placed the fish under the direction of Howard Terhune, chairman of the fish committee.

C. W. LINDEMAN GETS SCHOLARSHIP IN N. Y. UNIVERSITY

Waynesboro.—Prof. C. W. Lindeman, who has been at the head of the Quincey township high school for the last three years, was recently informed that he has been granted the Jay Gould scholarship in New York university, department of the school of education, for the year 1929-30. This scholarship is a merited one and Professor Lindeman is to be congratulated on receiving the same.

He will enter this institution in September and remain during the year, pursuing the course in educational administration.

the mother of a world war victim. Women are the principal sufferers when men decide to settle patriotic disputes. That's generally admitted, isn't it?

"After twelve years of guiding people over the Gettysburg field," I asked, "have you any particular ideas as to how this battle should have been fought?"

"Stranger," he replied, "across this ground, where Pickett charged, four thousand out of five thousand men were killed and wounded. In the distance you can see the statue of Lee—the black figure mounted on the white pedestal. Behind us is Meade. The bloody angle lies between them, and no man living can say who was right or who was wrong. Both fought for what they believed to be a just cause and each in his own heart offered the best that was in him. It is right as it stands."

Shocked Him!

Customer: Sure, I carry plenty of life insurance—$60,000.00 of it. My wife will be well-fixed.

Trust Officer: Fine. How will the life insurance be paid to her?

Customer: By check, I suppose.

Trust Officer: You mean, payable in cash. Does she handle your other investments now?

Customer: She doesn't know anything about them.

Trust Officer: Do you think it well, at such a crisis in her life, to put $60,000.00 in her lap and ask her to invest it?

Our Trust Officer will be glad to explain how a Life Insurance Trust can be arranged to pay your wife a regular income, with extras for emergencies, and protect every dollar of the insurance money you so thoughtfully provided for her.

Now more than a MILLION FRIGIDAIRE have been built

With every department of the Frigidaire factories running at maximum capacity, with orders greater than at any time in the history of the business, on Thursday, May 16th, the Millionth Frigidaire was built

In both the Household and Commercial fields Frigidaire leads in sales to customers

THERE are definite reasons why more Frigidaires are in use than all other makes of electric refrigerators combined; why it is the choice of home owners, of builders, of apartment owners, of commercial refrigeration users throughout the world.

Beauty, power and convenience
Frigidaire has surplus power that meets every emergency in the hottest weather, and yet operates economically always.

Frigidaire cabinets are beautiful—they are finished in gleaming porcelain enamel, or white Duco—clean and easy to keep clean. The mechanical part is completely enclosed and so quiet that you don't hear it start, stop, or run. Food shelves are elevated so that stooping is unnecessary.

The famous "Cold Control"

And in addition to the standard temperature regulator which automatically maintains an ideal temperature in the food compartment, Frigidaire is equipped with the famous "Cold Control" that speeds the freezing of ice cubes and makes possible dozens of new and delicious desserts and salads.

Low Prices

Because Frigidaire has achieved the million mark—because it is the overwhelming choice of the majority—the economies of quantity production have made prices so low that every model represents a tremendous saving to the buyer.

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

Frantic Campaigns . . .

to substitute other cigarettes for Lucky Strike fail largely because Luckies' superiority so quickly demonstrates itself. Lucky Strike represents a milestone in the progress of cigarette manufacture. The toasting process makes Lucky Strike the brand of distinction, and, in the opinion of 20,679* physicians, is the reason Luckies are less irritating. No other cigarette enjoys this secret heat treatment which removes impurities and irritants, produces a flavor beyond comparison and assures the smoker the maximum of delightful smoking pleasure and comfort.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Local Miscellany.—The caterpillars are playing havoc with fruit trees throughout the county.

Maurice Fox has had a neat refreshment stand erected at the First National bank corner.

Johnnie Miller has opened his stand for the summer at the Western Maryland depot and has been given the exclusive right by the R. R. officials to sell refreshments from the platform.

The first trolley car was run around the "Y" Saturday evening. The car light used is a brilliant affair and lights up the track for quite a distance. Two cars are now being run regular on the town end of the road.

Dr. Hale's Sermon.—Dr. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the Senate of the United States, delivered a most able and impressive sermon in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning. The church was crowded and among the hearers was Governor Pennypacker.

Grocery Change.—Jesse Snyder, who has been clerking in Stine's store for some time, has purchased from June F. Tipton the good will and fixtures of the latter's store on Chambersburg street and took charge of the same this morning.

High School Commencement.—Another most successful term of the public schools of the borough closed Thursday.

The climax of the school year was reached Thursday evening when the commencement exercises were held in Brua Chapel.

Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the eighteen young graduates who occupied the platform. They delivered their addresses in a most enviable manner exemplifying the excellent training and able instructions received from Prof. Book and his assistant Miss Cope.

The stage was beautifully decorated with flowers, potted plants and the class colors. In the rear of the stage was the class pin artistically arranged and beneath it the class motto "Labor Conquers All"—being made of daisies, the class flower.

Following is the program:

Stanton Rice, the accommodating messenger boy at the post office, appeared last week in a new regulation uniform.

Miss Kitty Brown, of Brownsville, Md., is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. B. Stover.

John W. Tipton and daughter, Miss Carrie, left yesterday for Philadelphia where they will make their future home. Mrs. Dr. Snively, who has been visiting here, returned with them.

Miss Maggie Myers, a trained nurse of Philadelphia, is visiting her brother, C. W. Myers, and family.

Mrs. Louis D. Wine and Mrs. L. M. Clement, of Salisbury, S. C., are spending some time in town.

THE CYNIC
He was a cynic and he sneered
Whenever tenderness appeared.
When men of honor talked or wrote
There came a chuckle from his throat.
"The rose is beautiful," said he,
"Because it is compelled to be."
His charms, which gushing poets voice,
It owns by law and not by choice."
He was a cynic, cold and wise,
Who looked at men with searching eyes
And oft expressed the curious view
That only what is vile is true.
"All good in men is false," said he,
"At heart pure selfishness are we;
The ones whom gentle pity rules
Are either cunning shams or fools."
Yet when to bargain he began
He looked to find an honest man
And strangely, too, he asked his wife
To live a pure and gentle life.
He taught his children many rules
To make them cunning shams or fools
And all the friends upon his list
Were kindly types that don't exist.

Greatest of All Memorial Days.

For the first time in the annals of time has a president of the United States delivered a Memorial Day address from the rostrum in the National cemetery.

Standing within a stone's throw of where Abraham Lincoln made his famous speech at the dedication of the National cemetery in 1863, President Roosevelt, surrounded by thousands of eager listeners, on Monday delivered an address that will live in history second to Mr. Lincoln's as a most notable and patriotic oration.

The morning dawned with a clouded sky but an old Sol rose higher the clouds broke and at intervals his rays were keenly felt.

The crowd has been variously estimated at from 25,000 to 30,000 people, the Western Maryland having hauled about 10,000 and the Reading nearly that number.

About 1 o'clock, Chief Marshal Hon. Theodore McAllister, assisted by Dr. Henry Stewart, Lieut. I. S. Stonesifer and Jesse Claggett, of Motter's station, Md., the latter having been a rough rider who served in the Spanish American war with President Roosevelt, formed the parade which moved at 1:30 in the following order:

Troop E, 15th U. S. Cavalry—Boys' drum corps—public school children and teachers—Indian band—Troop G, 15th U. S. Cavalry—Third Artillery—Marine band—President Roosevelt, Governor Pennypacker, Secretary Loeb and Dr. E. J. Wolf in a carriage owned and driven by J. W. Garlach with veteran escort—G. A. band—Post 9 and other G. A. R. veterans—Eichelberger Military academy—other distinguished guests.

Little Jack Rabbit

By David Cory
But, goodness me! When Little Jack Rabbit saw that the old Gander's house stood at the edge of a deep pond, he hesitated. Indeed, he did. The sight of all that water reminded him of the dreadful accident on the river to Dover; you remember how the shark had sunk the ferryboat.
"Please, Mr. Gander, I don't believe I'll come in," said the little rabbit. "It's too near the water, and I've had enough water to last me or some time."
"Well, suit yourself," answered the old Gander, trying to hide his disappointment, for no doubt he wanted to show the little rabbit his new radio outfit.
"Goodbye," cried the bunny boy, and away he went, clipperty clip, clipperty lip, his knapsack bouncing up and down on his back and his red striped candy cane swinging from his left paw.
Pretty soon he came across a funny little man of the wood. He was chopping down a tree. All of a sudden a chip from his ax hit the end of the little bunny's nose.
"Hoity toity!" exclaimed the little man of the wood. "Did it hurt you?" And to make up for his mishap, he opened his lunch pail and handed the little rabbit a piece of cheese.
"That tastes very nice," smiled the little bunny through his tears, and opening his knapsack, he found a lovely applepie.
"That will go nicely with the cheese," chuckled the little man of the wood. "You're a fine little bunny."
When the lunch was finished, the little rabbit started off again. As he hopped along he tasted the tip of his red striped candy cane. I don't know how he has ever kept that sweet sugarcane all this time, do you? But he has, just the same.
Well, after a while and a breezy mile, he sat down to rest on a mossy bank. The little brook, bubbling over the pebbles and the soft wind, gently ruffling the tree-tops, made such a sweet sound that he went off to sleep.

Now, the last time he had dropped into a little doze something dreadful had happened, but this time nothing unpleasant occurred. By and by he was awakened by the snapping of a twig.

"I didn't mean to wake you," cried a pretty fawn, a baby deer, you know.

"I don't care," laughed the good natured little bunny. "I'd rather play with you than sleep." Presently along came Mr. Buck and Mrs. Deer, who stopped to watch their little fawn skip rope with the bunny boy. Gracious me, how they could skip. The little rabbit skipped nine million, four hundred and sixty-even thousand, eight hundred and two and a half times. This beat the little fawn's count all to pieces, but she didn't care. She was so glad to find so nimble a playmate.

"Come home with us to our beautiful park," invited Mr. Buck. So away went the little rabbit, clipperty clip, into the wildwood, after the three deer.

Into the wildwood, green and sweet, Where the sky and treetops meet, And the fur and feathered throng Hark to Mother Nature's song.

If all oyster eggs hatched and survived, in five generations their shells would make a pile twice the size of the earth.

"My! you look lovely to-night"

SHE knew the compliment to be true—for the last pimple had vanished.
If you are one of the embarrassed—and men are not exceptions—with skin blemishes that linger, and sometimes leave scars, you must realize that the logical cause may come from the blood.
A clear, smooth, velvety skin bespeaks loveliness. Men admire it. Women praise and secretly envy. Hope, joy, happiness, and even love, may depend on the possession of a clear, unblemished skin.
On the other hand—skin eruptions are outward evidences of the condition within. Authorities state it is an indication that the body's power of resistance to disease and infection is low. Meaning, that there is a deficiency of red blood cells.
Without plenty of rich, red blood, there could be no strong, sturdy.

powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

When you get your red-blood-cells back to normal, that sluggish, let-down feeling, loss of appetite, boils, pimples, and skin troubles disappear. You get hungry again and you sleep soundly; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. You are resistant to diseases.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEWS ADAMS

SOMEBODY TO YOURSELF

FAME and fortune are so fickle. To be somebody in either may bring neither happiness nor satisfaction.

After all we are happiest and most content, most satisfied with ourselves when we have the consciousness that we have performed well toward ourselves.

To be somebody to yourself is not a small achievement. We spend all of our time with ourselves. Therefore we should at least build up something of interest and profit, out of which we may draw at will something well worth while.

The man with his self-respect still intact needs no other introduction in any place or at any time.

You cannot be kind or sympathetic to anyone else without having kindness and sympathy as a part of yourself. We give out only of what we are.

To be somebody to yourself is to demonstrate first of all your own appreciation of life and the opportunity given you to make life real and splendid for others. Even when life seems hard for you—as it is in spots for us all—if you are somebody to yourself, you are bound to win the fray!

And this winning business is largely made up of what we gain for ourselves in confidence and faith.

All compelling personalities have "that something" within them, or about them, which instantly attracts and holds, and inspires. They feel that they are somebody to themselves!

I wonder what any of us would amount to, anyway, if we didn't have this feeling within us? And isn't it, in fact, the great gift to the human soul?

Governor's View on Prohibition
Puzzles Politicians of Wisconsin

Madison, Wis., (AP).—In the hands of Gov. Walter J. Kohler, an enigma so far as prohibition is concerned although a staunch supporter of President Hoover, rests the fate of prohibition enforcement in Wisconsin.

The wealthy industrialist, who was elected governor a year after he forsook his business office for the stump, has before him the death warrant of state prohibition enforcement in Wisconsin.

By a sweep of the pen he may give his approval to the action of the legislature in complying with a mandate from the people and send Wisconsin to join its sister states which have retired from the business of prohibition enforcement.

Such action thereby would place the burden of punishing violators of the Volstead act upon the federal government. His refusal would precipitate a renewal of the legislative conflict in an effort by wets to enact the bill into law despite the governor.

Wets, including Thomas M. Duncan, state senator, Milwaukee Socialist and author of the repeal referendum which was approved by 153,000 majority, have predicted that Governor Kohler would sign the bill. But strangely enough there is no record of his attitude on prohibition that might be regarded as a barometer.

Since entering politics in the spring of 1928 to run as a delegate at large to the Republican national convention, Mr. Kohler has never given public expression to

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the Peoples Drug Store.—adv.

election campaign, and in every speech announced his support of the national Republican ticket. He won by more than 200,000 and Hoover carried Wisconsin by 90,000 odd.

Governor Kohler took no visible part in the legislative battle that finally placed the question of repeal before the people in the spring election, and said nothing after it was carried in a vote that approximated one half of the strength shown in the presidential election.
